

BSC@150: A legacy of alumni

—Four Birmingham-Southern graduates of the early '40s prepare to leave the Hilltop in search of promising careers, and among them is a future U.S. Senator. Pictured from left to right were: Bill Vance '41, who became a senior administrative officer with the CIA; Julian Bishop '42, who became an agent for a life insurance company; Howell Heflin '42, the late Alabama Supreme Court Chief Justice and three-term U.S. Senator; and Kenneth Liles '42, who became an attorney serving in Washington, D.C. We will highlight more of the college's notable alumni in the next issue of 'Southern magazine.
