Birmingham-Southern College offers a variety of programs that allow you to study Global and Comparative Studies in an international setting.

University of Birmingham - England (UK)
Kansai Gaidai University - Japan
Hong Kong Baptist University - China
University Francois Rabelais — France
University of Cape Town - South Africa
University of Limerick - Ireland
EU Studies Semester (CEPA) - France
Transnationalism and Comparative Development in South America (SIT)- Argentina
Thailand Short Course (Summer)- Thai Gov't program

Preferred terms of study and internships abroad:
- Sophomore year
- Junior year
- All summer terms
- E-Terms (PS299-Exploring Ghana: History, Thought, Culture and Politics)

Learning outcomes of the Global and Comparative Studies major:
- Describe foundational concepts in global and comparative studies, such as interdependence, development, sustainability, and human and international security, and apply these concepts in comparative analysis
- Develop critical insights about globalization in terms of institutions, processes, and trends
- Articulate critical insights about globalization and comparative studies and communicate the results of research
- Engage in meaningful dialogue regarding topics in global and comparative studies

Application and Deadlines on the back
Application Checklist for Study Abroad

Deadlines: (Semester deadlines are 9 months in advance of departure)

- E-Term Contracts: Third Friday in October
- Fall: Last Wednesday in November
- Academic Year: Last Wednesday in November
- Summer: Last Wednesday in January
- Spring: Last Wednesday in April

- Complete the “Application for Study Abroad” on Engage.
- Complete the Scholarship Application on Engage to be considered for study abroad funding.
- Ask a faculty member to send Anne Ledvina (aledvina@bsc.edu) an informal e-mail stating your ability to succeed academically and socially abroad.
- Make an appointment to meet with Anne Ledvina (aledvina@bsc.edu/226-7722) in the Krulak Institute (suite 280/268) to talk about the next steps.

That’s it! Super easy!